Here's What the Plasterers Think of ROCK PLASTER.

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying
to the practical character of ROCK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occupied by the other trades through the advent of machinery and improved methods.

A SHOCKING DEATH.

Tragic Ending of the Life of Charles Eyman at a Planing Mill.

Run Through the Body Above the Hips by a Broken Stick—Purely Accidental.

Charles Eyman, a wood worker at the Lyon & Armstrong planing mill was accidentally killed shortly after ten o'clock this forenoon while he was at work at his bench, being run through the body with a broken piece of moulding.

THE PARTICULARS. Eyman was at work in the room with A. M. Boutwell, who was some distance away. The machinery is operated by steam. Eyman was working at the moulding machine, when a three-quarter inch round stick, about four feet in length, broke off and caught under the knives. It was driven back suddenly with great force and before Eyman could move, the end of the stick struck him in the left side, and passed entirely through the body just above the hips. Eyman gave a scream of agony and called to Boutwell, but before Boutwell could reach him, Eyman had pulled the bloody stick from his side and cast it upon the floor. Boutwell caught Eyman as he was about to fall, and while others came to the scene, Boutwell telephoned for a doctor. When Boutwell returned, Eyman said "Good bye" and expired. He died within 10 minutes after the accident. These were the only words he uttered before he died. His body was carried to the office and laid on the table.

REMOVAL OF THE BODY. Coroner Bendure came to the mill and removed the body to the home of the aunt of the deceased, Mrs. L. E. Mackey, 214 West Wood street, where Eyman was a boarder. The inquest was held this afternoon and a verdict of accidental death returned.

Charles Eyman was aged 31 years, and single. He was a son of Mrs. Horatio Eyman, residing one mile northwest of Warrensburg. He was a young man of excellent habits and was a superior workman. He came to Decatur from Kansas City last fall when he entered the employ of the Lyon & Armstrong company. He was well liked by his fellow workmen. The mill was closed down soon after the accident and work for the days suspended.

THE INQUEST. The inquest was held this afternoon at 214 West Wood street. The jury men were Thomas Doake, J. W. Weigand, J. H. Maury, H. O. Schaub, B. N. Adams and George Wagonseller. The verdict was that Eyman came to his death by accident, the immediate cause being the penetration of his body by a stick that kicked back from a moulding machine. The jury finds that from the evidence the death was not due to any negligence on the part of his employers.

The remains were sent to Warrensburg this afternoon for burial in the Bachelder cemetery. The deceased leaves a widowed mother, three brothers, John W. Eyman, James Eyman and Harry Eyman; two sisters, Maggie Eyman and Mrs. Bess, of Michigan. The mother of the deceased is very low with consumption.

Altgeld's "Know-nothingism" Re-buked.

W. F. Wiemers, a German-American lawyer of Chicago, has written an open letter to Altgeld, which may be rated among the best political literature of the campaign. Additional pungency is given to this document, because of the fact that Mr. Wiemers is neither an office holder or office seeker.

In the article from which we can only use extracts—for want of space—he says: "There was a secret society—the know-nothings—formed forty years ago, but its speedy extinction showed that it had no hold upon the American people. You are now straining every nerve to arouse among German-Americans a similar spirit, because you claim, mistakenly, I think, to have found, upon a count of noses, that you will gain votes by having that an American spirit revived, both among natives and foreign-born.

"You assume that German-Americans should constitute a political class in the United States. You have wantonly and offensively drawn the line of nativity and race here in Illinois. Do you think you defend German-Americans by thus introducing a system of German 'know-nothingism' into American politics to serve your personal ends?"

"Then he raises the article on Altgeld's physiognomy in the following style: 'Even if German-Americans could be led into the toils of setting up a candidate upon the distant ground of his German nationality recent disclosures in connection with your record, I am sorry to say, render it very doubtful whether you are such a man as they could afford to select. They would want a man above even the suspicion of corruption; and since your transactions at Springfield in the senatorial contest of 1891 have been brought to light German-Americans as a class can scarcely afford to submit themselves to such questionable leadership as yours. So far from trying to aid our people, you seem to me to be afraid that native Americans will not undervalue and ostracize our citizens of German birth, so you may avail yourself of the resulting discontent for political purposes. In your capacity of a professional German-American you long just now to be kicked and ousted, so you may exhibit the bruises and scars on the stump.'

While Altgeld himself is too narrow and selfish to benefit by this wholesome letter, its effects will not be lost on the German-Americans of the state, who are among our best people, and never lack recognition.

Which Shall It Be? It is as certain as any event in the future can be that either Harrison or Cleveland will be the next president of the United States. It is equally certain that either Fifer or Altgeld will be the next governor of Illinois. This paragraph will be read by thousands of voters in this state before the day of election. Among these will be a large number of our best citizens, who, for reasons seemingly satisfactory to themselves, will cast a vote for some side-show candidate, without the remotest thought of electing him; yet this vote, thus given, will be a potent factor in determining which of the four men named shall be elected.

The moral quality of a vote is only determined by the result it secures, and hence it is that a prohibition or people's vote, though cast with the best intent, is turned to the assistance of Cleveland and Altgeld, the "wide open" representatives of all the bad elements in society, and against Harrison and Fifer, who, in their personal character and party, represent so much of what is good, and the only safe line of hope for anything better. Which shall it be?

"Every enemy this great republic has had for thirty years has been a democrat. Every man that shot union soldiers in extremity of death was a democrat. Every man that loved slavery better than liberty was a democrat. The man that assassinated Abraham Lincoln was a democrat. Every man that sympathized with the assassin—every man glad that the noblest president ever elected was assassinated—was a democrat. Every man who wanted the privilege of whipping another man to make him work for nothing and paid him with lashes on his naked back was a democrat. Every man that raised bloodhounds to pursue human beings was a democrat.

"Every man that impaired the credit of the United States, every man that swore we would never pay the bonds, every man that swore we would never redeem the greenbacks, every maligner of his country's credit, every calumniator of his country's honor was a democrat."—B. G. Ingersoll.

Altgeld declares that the democrats are entitled to all the credit for the passage of the labor bills of the last legislature. As is quite usual with him, his statements bear no relation to facts. About all the laws in the interests of labor and protection of miners, as well as control of the railroads, were introduced and passed, and today form a monument of proper republican legislation, in spite of democratic opposition.

It is worthy of note that not a single democratic paper in the state has openly and frankly advocated the election of Altgeld for governor. About all that has been said for him gets an airing in the obscure country papers, through the plate matter sent out by "Back" Heinrichsen, who, as a running mate for Altgeld, on the same ticket for secretary of state, illustrates eternal fitness in that particular.

If fidelity to detail duties of an office is appreciated Gen. Pavey will experience no difficulty in securing a reelection. He has made a vigorous canvass and the farmers are well pleased with his speeches and presence. Soldiers will not be slow in responding to an invitation to support their old comrade.

One of the campaign speakers in Alabama is named Tenate, a sort of figure of speech, as it were.

A vote for Cleveland and Altgeld is in favor of a currency worth only 70 cents on the dollar. It would also mean reduced wages, and uncertain employment. It seems incredible that voters from the farm and the workshop, the forge and the mill will voluntarily put burdens on themselves and children.

Altgeld says that the state institutions are run by a clique who run the government. Never mind—when he becomes an inmate of the appropriate state institution, he will find that he cannot break out, and Gov. Fifer will control the clique sufficiently to see that he is gently cared for.

Altgeld continues to rant about the Edwards school law, evidently not knowing enough to know that Dr. Edwards had nothing at all to do with the troublesome school law, which was formulated by a citizens' committee of Chicago, a large majority of whom were democrats.

Among the notables in the state parade on the opening of the world's fair, none were more conspicuous than Gov. Fifer and his staff—all mounted on superb steeds—and showy in trappings. The governor "sits" a horse as if he was a part of him, and is well known to be a fine horseman and frequently in the saddle.

All the patriotism ever possessed by Cleve and Steve and Altgeld, would have more play in a McKinley pin tin cup than a tadpole would in the Pacific ocean.

It Causes a Scare and a Little Fire at the Major Hays Residence.

This forenoon the large fire department was called to the entire residence of Major F. L. Hays at the corner of East Eldorado street and Broadway to suppress an incipient fire, which was caused by a leak in the gas pipe on the west side of the house in the basement. The odor of the gas was perceptible and one of the Hays boys went into the basement to see if he could find the leak. He struck a match and found the leak. Some time later Mrs. Hays, who was up-stairs, realized the fact that some part of the house was on fire. Investigation proved that the burning gas had set fire to one of the heavy beams under the house. It was all in a blaze, and smoke was filling the rooms. Mrs. Hays endeavored to put out the fire with a bucket of water, but was unsuccessful. The fire department got into the cellar and quickly put out the flames, leaving the timber in a charred state. Later a plumber came to the scene and turned off the gas. The damage was slight but the excitement was immense for a time. Major Hays and his sons hurried to the residence but when they arrived the fire was out.

The Outlook.

The outlook now indicates the election of Harrison by the vote of every northern state except Nevada. There are also chances of carrying West Virginia, Delaware and Virginia. The people do not want wild-cat money, stumptail silver and free trade.

The Republican state ticket will have an old time majority and this congressional district will be redeemed. The friends of Mr. Scott are trying to keep his head out of water by reporting that he will make McLean county a stand-off. This is the silliest bomb. McLean county will give Funk a majority of from 1,500 to 1,800 and he will run ahead of his ticket in Logan county where he is as well known as he is in McLean, and it is idle to suppose for one minute that Owen Scott has the slightest chance for reelection. Such talk is foolish.

The Anna B. Millikin Home.

The Decatur Christian Endeavor Union will hold services at the Home the first Sunday of each month, at 3:30 p. m. The societies of the different churches will conduct them. To-morrow the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Baptist church will have charge; I. N. Martin, jr., will lead. Several members of other societies will be out. It is expected that great good will come from these meetings. Those at the Home can not come out to the Sunday services at the churches, so the Endeavor Union will try to do good by holding services for them.

Notice to Election Judges.

The election judges of Decatur township are notified that the booths will be delivered to the different polling places on Monday afternoon, and must be set up that evening ready for voting at the election the following day. It is also desired that persons should understand the manner of voting on the issuance of county bonds. To vote for the issue mark the square opposite the word, "Yes," and to vote against it, mark the square opposite the word, "No." 4-3t

Republican Rallies.

The Republicans had a big meeting at Niantic last night when the hall was crowded and when all present listened with pleasure and profit to the political gospel as ably presented by J. M. Clokey and Edwin Park. The Niantic Republicans will make a good report at the ballot box Nov. 8th.
Last night at LaPlace W. F. Calhoun addressed a Republican meeting.

Dialogue.

"What is a tin plate liar, pa?"
"A tin plate liar, my son, is a man who tries to get into office by saying that the tin plate industry established by the Republican McKinley law amounts to nothing. When in fact he knows that there were 20,000,000 pounds made in this country last year, $3,000,000 of capital invested and thousands of men given employment in this new industry."

Notice.

Ten or fifteen thousand feet of old bridge lumber, joists and bridge flooring, will be sold at auction at the old Grubb bridge, at 2 o'clock, p. m., on Thursday, Nov. 10, 1892. The lumber is from the old bridge, and will be knocked down to the highest bidder. Terms cash.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

How to Mark and Vote the Australian Ballot, Nov 8th

Give your name and, if required, your residence to the judges of the election. If your name is on the register, you will be permitted to enter the enclosed space inside the guard-tail.

If your vote is not challenged, one of the judges, after endorsing his initials on the back thereof, will hand you a ballot.

If your name be not on the register, you will not receive a ballot until you have established your right to vote, by affidavit or otherwise.

When you have received a ballot retire, at once, alone, into one of the voting booths and prepare it for the ballot box by marking it as the law prescribes.

You will find printed on the ballot, in columns, side by side, the names of all the candidates of each party, to be voted for at that election.

At the top of each column you will find the name of each party "ticket" or list of candidates, as "Republican," "Democratic," "Prohibition," "Independent," etc.

At the left of the party name, or heading, of the different tickets will be a circle 1/4 inch in diameter. At the left of each name on the ballot will be a square 1/4 inch on each side.

To prepare your ballot for voting you must mark it with a cross, either in the circle at the top of the ticket or in the square at the left of each name. Do not mark your ballot in any way except as directed below and do not erase any names.

The law permits four methods of marking the ballot for voting, as follows:

1. To vote for all of the candidates of a party, that is, to vote "straight party ticket," mark a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket of your choice. A ballot so marked will be counted for all of the candidates in the column under the circle so marked.

2. To "split" or "scratch" a ballot, that is, to vote for part of the candidates on one ticket, or to vote for part of the candidates on one ticket, and for part of the candidates on another ticket, leave all of the circles blank and mark a cross in the square at the left of the name, or names, of the candidate or candidates of your choice.

A ballot so marked will be counted only for the candidate marked. But be careful not to mark more names than there are persons to be elected, or your ballot will not be counted.

3. Another method of "scratching" a ballot is in this way. Mark a cross in the circle at the head of any ticket, and then mark a cross in the square below the name or names of any candidate for whom you want to vote on any other ticket or tickets. A ballot so marked will be counted for all of the candidates on the ticket under the circle marked, except for the offices for which the names of candidates are marked on the other ticket or tickets on the ballot, and the latter will be counted for the candidates marked in the square on those tickets.

But voters are cautioned against marking a ballot by this method when there is more than one candidate to be elected to the same office on the same ballot, as in the case of Electors of President and Vice-President. There will be 24 electors elected in this state at the November election, 1902.

The law says: "If the voter marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office." By marking in the circle the voter indicates a desire to vote for all of the electors on the ticket so marked, and then by marking one or more names in the squares on an other ticket more names would be marked than there are persons to be elected, for the reason that as the position of the names of the electors on the different tickets is not material, it would be impossible to determine what names on the ticket marked in the circle was intended to be voted for and what not, so that all would be counted as having been voted for.

When there is but one candidate to be elected to the same office on the same ballot, the danger of confusion above pointed out does not arise, and this method of marking may be safely adopted. The safe way to "split" a ticket, however, is to mark the name of each candidate for whom you want to vote in the squares, and leave the circles blank.

4. If the voters desire to vote for a candidate not on the ticket of his choice he may write in the name of the candidate of his choice in a blank space on the ticket, making a cross before the name written in.

In voting for Representatives to the General Assembly, where the number of votes to be given each candidate is printed on the ballot, a cross mark placed in the circle at the top of the ticket will be counted as a cross opposite to each name on that ticket for Representative, and the ballot will be counted as printed.

Or the voter may, besides making a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket, also make a cross in the square opposite the names of such candidates for Representative as he wishes to vote for. But if the number of votes to be given each candidate be not printed on the ballot, and you mark a cross opposite only one name, 3 votes will be counted for that candidate. If you mark a cross opposite two names, 1 1/2 votes will be counted for each candidate. If you mark three names with a cross each candidate will be counted one vote.

If you wish to divide your vote unequally you must mark the names of the candidates with a cross and follow the name with the number of votes you intend to give each. In voting for representatives you can vote for three candidates and no more.

Where the word ballot is used in the instruction the entire sheet given to the voter by the judge of election is meant.

Where the word ticket is used, only a single party group of candidates is meant.

In voting on any proposition submitted to vote and printed on the ballot, make a cross mark in the column opposite the headings "Yes" or "No," and your ballot will be counted "for," if you mark opposite "Yes," and "against," if you mark opposite "No."

Before leaving the voting booth fold your ballot so as to conceal the marks, and to expose the official endorsement on the back.

Leave the booth and hand your ballot to the judge in charge of the ballot box, who, without numbering it, must deposit it in the box.

You will not be allowed to occupy a voting booth with another voter.

You will not be allowed to occupy a booth more than five minutes if others are waiting to vote.

You will not be allowed to remain in the enclosed space more than ten minutes, and you must quit it as soon as you have voted.

You will not be allowed to re-enter the enclosed space, after you have voted, during the election.
You will not be allowed to take a ballot from the polling place.

You will not be allowed to vote any ballot except the one you receive from the judge.
If you spoil a ballot in preparing it, you must return it and get another in the place of it. Do not vote a torn or mutilated ballot.

If the voter will declare upon oath that he cannot read the English language, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, upon request, he will be assisted by two election officers, appointed for the purpose, of opposite political parties. These officers will mark the ballot as directed by the voter.

Intoxication will not be regarded as a physical disability, and if a voter is intoxicated he will receive no assistance in marking his ballot.

The polls will be opened at 7 o'clock in the morning and be closed at 5 o'clock in the evening. Between these hours voters are entitled to absent themselves from their place of employment for the period of 2 hours for the purpose of voting. They will not be liable to any penalty for their absence, nor shall any deduction be made from their wages or salary on that account, but they must ask for leave of absence before the day of election, and their employer may specify the hours during which they may be absent.

A REPUBLICAN CONVERT.

Rev. H. M. Hamill, a Life-Long Democrat, Joins the Party of Progress.

FRANKLIN, Ill., Nov. 4.—The Republicans of Franklin are jubilating over the announcement that Rev. H. M. Hamill, formerly pastor of the Methodist church here, and one of the most enthusiastic Democrats in this county, has renounced the party of free trade and wild-cat currency and has openly espoused the Republican cause.

Mr. Hamill is one of the ablest men in Morgan county and the conversion of a man of his ability who has been noted for his zeal in behalf of the Democratic party, will influence many others.

Mr. Hamill will speak at the Republican meeting, Saturday evening and will tell his friends why he made the change.

A Democratic Convert.

A few months ago Lewis Wolter, a German Democrat of Wheatland township, went to Germany a rack-free trader.

He saw enough there with his own eyes to convince him that free trade will never do for America. He found strong, able-bodied Germans working for 30 cents a day, and labor scarce at that.

Mr. Wolter has returned home, and is now a shouting protectionist. He will vote the straight Republican ticket.

Catarrh being a constitutional treatment Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera.

Dr. W. H. Helmetta, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made." For sale by Swearingen & Tyler, druggists. d&w

There is no use of any one suffering with the cholera when Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can be procured. It will give relief in a few minutes and cure in a short time. I have tried it and know—W. H. Helmetta, N. J. The epidemic at Helmetta was at first believed to be cholera, but subsequent investigation proved it to be a violent form of dysentery, almost as dangerous as cholera. This remedy was used with great success. For sale by Swearingen & Tyler, druggists. d&w

WE THE UNDERSIGNED, contracting plasterers, after
much experience and observation, take pleasure in testifying
to the practical character of ROCK PLASTER, and while it will remove a not inconsiderable amount of business, namely that of patching, we advocate its use, as it enables us to do work and guarantee the results, and enables us to carry on our trade at all seasons of the year, and modernizes that part of building enterprise which has undergone practically
no improvement in the last two thousand years, placing the business of the plasterer on the same footing as that occu-

J. B. Noon is behind the bars in the county jail because he cannot give bonds in the sum of $100 to keep the peace for sixty days. Justice Hammer, after hearing the evidence, fixed the amount of the bond. Mrs. Noon caused her husband's arrest. She certified that he had threatened to cut her throat.

J. W. HOLIDAY is still at Burlington, striving to gain an extension of time on the option to purchase the commercial rolling mill plant for removal to Decatur. He has written a letter to W. L. Ferguson in which he says: "Don't be discouraged. I believe I will be successful in gaining the extension of time desired."

It Causes a Scare and a Little Fire at the Major Hays Residence.

This forenoon the entire fire department was called to the large residence of Major F. L. Hays at the corner of East Eldorado street and Broadway to suppress an incipient fire, which was caused by a leak in the gas pipe on the west side of the house in the basement. The odor of the gas was perceptible and one of the Hays boys went into the basement to see if he could find the leak. He struck a match and found the leak. Some time later Mrs. Hays, who was up-stairs, realized the fact that some part of the house was on fire. Investigation proved that the burning gas had set fire to one of the heavy beams under the house. It was all in a blaze, and smoke was filling the rooms. Mrs. Hays endeavored to put out the fire with a bucket of water, but was unsuccessful. The fire department got into the cellar and quickly put out the flames, leaving the timber in a charred state. Later a plumber came to the scene and turned off the gas. The damage was slight but the excitement was immense for a time. Major Hays and his sons hurried to the residence but when they arrived the fire was out.

RALLIES IN THE COUNTRY.

Speakers and Dates for Republican Meetings.

Mt. Zion and Long Creek townships—Thursday, Nov. 3. Evening meeting at Mt. Zion. Hon. W. G. Cochran and Hon. F. M. Shookwiler.

Niantic—Friday, November 4; Edwin Park and J. B. McCoy.

Macon—Monday, November 7; W. F. Calhoun.

Boody—Nov. 7; A. H. Mills.

All of the above meetings will take place at night.

The Outlook.

The outlook now indicates the election of Harrison by the vote of every northern state except Nevada. There are also chances of carrying West Virginia, Delaware and Virginia. The people do not want wild-cat money, stumptail silver and free trade.

The Republican state ticket will have an old time majority and this congressional district will be redeemed. The friends of Mr. Scott are trying to keep his head out of water by reporting that he will make McLean county a stand-off. This is the silliest boob. McLean county will give Funk a majority of from 1,500 to 1,800 and he will run ahead of his ticket in Logan county where he is as well known as he is in McLean, and it is idle to suppose for one minute that Owen Scott has the slightest chance for reelection. Such talk is foolish.

The Anna B. Millikin Home.

The Decatur Christian Endeavor Union will hold services at the Home the first Sunday of each month, at 2:30 p.m. The societies of the different churches will conduct them. To-morrow the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Baptist church will have charge; I. N. Martin, jr., will lead. Several members of other societies will be out. It is expected that great good will come from these meetings. Those at the Home can not come out to the Sunday services at the churches, so the Endeavor Union will try to do good by holding services for them.

Notice to Election Judges.

The election judges of Decatur township are notified that the booths will be delivered to the different polling places on Monday afternoon, and must be set up that evening ready for voting at the election the following day. It is also desired that persons should understand the manner of voting on the issuance of county bonds. To vote for the issue mark the square opposite the word, "Yes," and to vote against it, mark the square opposite the word, "No."

H. F. MAY, Supervisor.

Republican Rallies.

The Republicans had a big meeting at Niantic last night when the hall was crowded and when all present listened with pleasure and profit to the political gospel as ably presented by J. M. Ciokey and Edwin Park. The Niantic Republicans will make a good report at the ballot box Nov. 8th.

Last night at LaPlace W. F. Calhoun addressed a Republican meeting.

Dialogue.

"What is a tin plate liar, pa?"

"A tin plate liar, my son, is a man who tries to get into office by saying that the tin plate industry established by the Republican McKinley law amounts to nothing. When in fact he knows that there were 20,000,000 pounds made in this country last year, $6,000,000 of capital invested and thousands of men given employment in this new industry."

Notice.

Ten or fifteen thousand feet of old bridge lumber, joists and bridge flooring, will be sold at auction at the old Grubb bridge, at 2 o'clock, p. m., on Thursday, Nov. 10, 1892. The lumber is from the old bridge, and will be knocked down to the highest bidder. Terms cash.

Selling Out

Yes, I am selling out, any way to get the goods out at cost. No trouble to convince anyone who wants to save money in his purchases of shoes. Come while the sale is in progress. I have received orders for my stock and one of these days it will go. The amount of reduction in stock which it is necessary for me to make before I can get the sale effected is not very great. In the meantime until this point is reached I want the old customers who have been with me in the seasons of profit to come and enjoy the benefit which I have now in store for them. This cannot last very long and I want you to get the benefit of it. Walter Hutchins.

CLOSE AT FIVE O'CLOCK.

Voters Should Bear this Fact in Mind Next Tuesday.

Too great care cannot be taken to impress upon the voters of Illinois what the hours of voting are under the new election law.

The hours were changed by the last general assembly, and the great danger is that there will be a few voters in every town, making a large aggregate, who will think they can now, as formerly, do a day's work and then vote. The polls have formerly opened at 8 o'clock in the morning, and closed at 7 o'clock in the evening, but now they open at 7 o'clock and close at 5 o'clock. The change in closing is the point of danger.

THE BEST FOR THE FAMILY.

Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure is the best remedy for the family because while it can be given to old and young it contains nothing deleterious that will injure anyone. The following letter illustrates this.

ROCKFORD, ILL., May 26, '92.
S. Jean Remedy Co.,
Paris, Ill.

GENTLEMEN:—Three months ago my wife was taken with a bad cold and a terrible cough. I was afraid it would result seriously as it was just after confinement. Our family doctor gave her medicine but it did her no good, so I bought a bottle of your German Cough and Kidney Cure and gave her two doses. She did not cough once that night, and in the morning was cured. At another time our little boy, two years old, had a bad cold, and we thought he would have the croup, he had such a hoarse cough. I gave him a half teaspoonful of your remedy and he went right off to sleep and did not cough again all night. I gave him three doses next day and he was entirely rid of his cough. I would not be without a bottle of it in my house for any money. These are actual facts.

Yours truly,
W. C. WOLFFENSPERGER,

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS.

How to Mark and Vote the Australian Ballot, Nov. 8th.

Give your name and, if required, your residence to the judges of the election. If your name is on the register, you will be permitted to enter the enclosed space inside the guard-rail.

If your vote is not challenged, one of the judges, after indorsing his initials on the back thereof, will hand you a ballot. If your name is not on the register, you will not receive a ballot until you have established your right to vote, by affidavit or otherwise.

When you have received a ballot retire, at once, alone, into one of the voting booths and prepare it for the ballot box by marking it as the law prescribes. You will find printed on the ballot, in columns, side by side, the names of all the candidates, of each party, to be voted for at that election.

At the top of each column you will find the name of each party "ticket," or list of candidates, as "Republican," "Democratic," "Prohibition," "Independent," etc.

At the left of the party name, or heading, of the different tickets will be a circle $\frac{1}{2}$ inch in diameter. At the left of each name on the ballot will be a square $\frac{1}{2}$ inch on each side. To prepare your ballot for voting you must mark it with a cross, either in the circle at the top of the ticket or in the square at the left of each name. Do not mark your ballot in any way except as directed below and do not erase any names. The law permits four methods of marking the ballot for voting, as follows:

1. To vote for all of the candidates of a party, that is, to vote a "straight party ticket," mark a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket of your choice. A ballot so marked will be counted for all of the candidates in the column under the circle so marked.

2. To "split" or "scratch" a ballot, that is, to vote for part of the candidates on one ticket, or to vote for part of the candidates on one ticket and for part of the candidates on another ticket, leave all of the circles blank and mark a cross in the square at the left of the name, or names, of the candidates of your choice. A ballot so marked will be counted only for the candidates marked. But be careful not to mark more names than there are persons to be elected, or your ballot will not be counted.

3. Another method of "scratching" a ballot is in this way: Mark a cross in the circle at the head of any ticket, and then mark a cross in the square before the name or names of any candidate for whom you want to vote on any other ticket or tickets. A ballot so marked will be counted for all of the candidates on the ticket under the circle marked, except for the offices for which the names of candidates are marked on the other ticket or tickets on the ballot, and the latter will be counted for the candidates marked in the square on those tickets. But voters are cautioned against marking a ballot by this method when there is more than one candidate to be elected to the same office on the same ballot, as in the case of Electors of President and Vice-President. There will be 24 electors elected in this state at the November election, 1892. The law says: "If the voter marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office." By marking in the circle the voter indicates a desire to vote for all of the electors on the ticket so marked; then by marking one or more names in the squares on an other ticket more names would be marked than there are persons to be elected, for the reason that in the position of the names of the electors on the different tickets is not material, it would be impossible to determine what names on the ticket marked in the circle were intended to be voted for and what not, so that all would be counted as having been voted for. When there is but one candidate to be elected to the same office on the same ballot, the danger of confusion above pointed out does not arise, and this method of marking may be safely adopted. The safe way to "split" a ticket, however, is to mark the name of each candidate for whom you want to vote in the squares, and leave the circles blank.

4. If the voters desire to vote for a candidate not on the ticket of his choice he may write in the name of the candidate of his choice in a blank space on the ticket, making a cross before the name written in.

In voting for Representatives to the General Assembly, where the number of votes to be given each candidate is printed on the ballot, a cross marked placed in the circle at the top of the ticket will be counted as a cross opposite to each name on that ticket for Representative, and the ballot will be counted as printed. Or the voter may, besides making a cross in the circle at the head of the ticket, also make a cross in the square opposite the names of such candidates for Representative as he wishes to vote for. But if the number of votes to be given each candidate be not printed on the ballot, and you mark a cross opposite only one name, 3 votes will be counted for that candidate. If you mark a cross opposite two names, 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ votes will be counted for each candidate. If you mark three names with a cross each candidate will be counted one vote. If you wish to divide your vote unequally you must mark the names of the candidates with a cross and follow the name with the number of votes you intend to give each. In voting for representatives you can vote for three candidates and no more.

Where the word ballot is used in the instruction the entire sheet given to the voter by the judge of election is meant.

Where the word ticket is used, only a single party group of candidates is meant.

In voting on any proposition submitted to vote and printed on the ballot, make a cross mark in the column opposite the headings "Yes" or "No," and your ballot will be counted "for" if you mark opposite "Yes," and "against" if you mark opposite "No."

Before leaving the voting booth fold your ballot so as to conceal the marks, and to expose the official endorsement on the back.

Leave the booth and hand your ballot to the judge in charge of the ballot box who, without numbering it, must deposit it in the box.

You will not be allowed to occupy a voting booth with another voter. You will not be allowed to occupy a booth more than five minutes if others are waiting to vote.

You will not be allowed to remain in the enclosed space more than ten minutes, and you must quit it as soon as you have voted.

You will not be allowed to re-enter the enclosed space, after you have voted, during the election.

You will not be allowed to take a ballot from the polling place.

You will not be allowed to vote any ballot except the one you receive from the judges.

If you spoil a ballot in preparing it, you must return it and get another in the place of it. Do not vote a torn or mutilated ballot.

If the voter will declare upon oath that he cannot read the English language, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, upon request, he will be assisted by two election officers, appointed for the purpose, of opposite political parties. These officers will mark the ballot as directed by the voter.

Intoxication will not be regarded as a physical disability, and if a voter is intoxicated he will receive no assistance in marking his ballot.

The polls will be opened at 7 o'clock in the morning and be closed at 6 o'clock in the evening. Between these hours voters are entitled to absent themselves from their place of employment for the period of 2 hours for the purpose of voting. They will not be liable to any penalty for their absence, nor shall any deduction be made from their wages or salary on that account; but they must ask for leave of absence before the day of election, and their employer may specify the hours during which they may be absent.

A REPUBLICAN CONVERT.

Rev. H. M. Hamill, a Life-Long Democrat, Joins the Party of Progress.

FRANKLIN, Ill., Nov. 4.—The Republicans of Franklin are jubilating over the announcement that Rev. H. M. Hamill, formerly pastor of the Methodist church here, and one of the most enthusiastic Democrats in this county, has renounced the party of free trade and wild-cat currency and has openly espoused the Republican cause. Mr. Hamill is one of the ablest men in Morgan county and the conversion of a man of his ability who has been noted for his zeal in behalf of the Democratic party, will influence many others. Mr. Hamill will speak at the Republican meeting Saturday evening and will tell his friends why he made the change.

A Democratic Convert.

A few months ago Lewis Wolfer, a German Democrat of Wheatland township, went to Germany a rank free-trader. He saw enough there with his own eyes to convince him that free trade will never do for America. He found strong, able-bodied Germans working for 20 cents a day, and labor scarce at that. Mr. Wolfer has returned home, and is now a shouting protectionist. He will vote the straight Republican ticket.

$100 Reward $100.

A SHOCKING DEATH.

Tragic Ending of the Life of Charles Eymann at a Planing Mill.

Run Through the Body Above the Hips by a Broken Stick—Purely Accidental.

Charles Eymann, a wood worker at the Lyon & Armstrong planing mill was accidentally killed shortly after ten o'clock this forenoon while he was at work at his bench, being run through the body with a broken piece of moulding.

THE PARTICULARS.

Eymann was at work in the room with A. M. Boutwell, who was some distance away. The machinery is operated by steam. Eymann was working at the moulding machine, when a three-quarter inch round stick, about four feet in length, broke off and caught under the knives. It was driven back suddenly with great force and before Eymann could move, the end of the stick struck him in the left side, and passed entirely through the body just above the hips. Eymann gave a scream of agony and called to Boutwell, but before Boutwell could reach him, Eymann had pulled the bloody stick from his side and cast it upon the floor. Boutwell caught Eymann as he was about to fall, and while others came to the scene, Boutwell telephoned for a doctor. When Boutwell returned, Eymann said "Good bye" and expired. He died within 10 minutes after the accident. These were the only words he uttered before he died. His body was carried to the office and laid on the table.

REMOVAL OF THE BODY.

Coroner Bendure came to the mill and removed the body to the home of the aunt of the deceased, Mrs. L. E. Mackey, 214 West Wood street, where Eymann was a boarder. The inquest was held this afternoon and a verdict of accidental death returned.

Charles Eymann was aged 31 years, and single. He was a son of Mrs. Horatio Eymann, residing one mile northwest of Warrensburg. He was a young man of excellent habits and was a superior workman. He came to Decatur from Kansas City last fall when he entered the employ of the Lyon & Armstrong company. He was well liked by his fellow workmen. The mill was closed down soon after the accident and work for the day suspended.

THE INQUEST.

The inquest was held this afternoon at 214 West Wood street. The jury men were Thomas Doake, J. W. Weigand, J. H. Maury, H. O. Schaub, B. N. Adams and George Waggoner. The verdict was that Eymann came to his death by accident, the immediate cause being the penetration of his body by a stick that kicked back from a moulding machine. The jury finds that "from the evidence the death was not due to any negligence on the part of his employers."

The remains were sent to Warrensburg this afternoon for burial in the Batchelder cemetery. The deceased leaves a widowed mother, three brothers, John W. Eymann, James Eymann and Harry Eymann; two sisters, Maggie Eymann and Mrs. Boss, of Michigan. The mother of the deceased is very low with consumption.

This is an ideal Republican day.

Altgeld's "Know-nothingism" Re-buked.

W. F. Wiemers, a German-American lawyer of Chicago, has written an open letter to Altgeld, which may be rated among the best political literature of the campaign. Additional pungency is given to this document, because of the fact that Mr. Wiemers is neither an office holder or office seeker.

In the article from which we can only use extracts—for want of space—he says:

"There was a secret society—the know-nothingism—formed forty years ago, but its speedy extinction showed that it had no hold upon the American people. You are now straining every nerve to arouse among German-Americans a similar spirit, because you claim, mistakenly, I think, to have found, upon a count of noses, that you will gain votes by having that un-American spirit revived, both among natives and foreign-born."

"You assume that German-Americans should constitute a political class in the United States. You have wantonly and offensively drawn the line of nativity and race here in Illinois. Do you think you betrayed German-Americans by thus introducing a system of German 'know-nothingism' into American politics to serve your personal ends?"

"You have in this campaign denounced American-born republicans as 'nativists'; you have indicated more than once that your election depends entirely upon the votes of German-Americans, and have stated in substance, if not in terms, that you are politically independent of native-born voters. You exhorted your supporters in your secret canvass to 'attend to the naturalization of the Germans and you would take care of the rest.' In your Joliet speech you went further and said in substance that the older stock of Americans, and the race to which they belong, 'point to no great work accomplished by you.' You have practically asserted that the Anglo-Saxon race, though really of the same German blood as ourselves, is discredited by history and that the modern German alone is to receive credit for the important results wrought out here in America."

Then he raises the curtain on Altgeld's physiognomy in the following style:

"Even if German-Americans could be led into the folly of setting up a candidate upon the distinct ground of his German nationality, recent disclosures in connection with your record, I am sorry to say, render it very doubtful whether you are such a man as they could afford to select. They would want a man above even the suspicion of corruption; and since your transactions at Springfield in the senatorial contest of 1891 have been brought to light German-Americans as a class can scarcely afford to submit themselves to such questionable leadership as yours. So far from trying to aid our people, you seem to me to be afraid that native Americans will not undervalue and obstruct our citizens of German birth, so you may avail yourself of the resulting discontent for political purposes. In your capacity of a professional German-American you long just now to be kicked and ousted, so you may exhibit the bruises and scars on the stump."

While Altgeld himself is too narrow and selfish to benefit by this wholesome letter, its effects will not be lost on the German-Americans of the state, who are among our best people, and never lack recognition.

Which Shall It Be?

It is as certain as any event in the future can be that either Harrison or Cleveland will be the next president of the United States. It is equally certain that either Fifer or Altgeld will be the next governor of Illinois. This paragraph will be read by thousands of voters in this state before the day of election. Among these will be a large number of our best citizens, who, for reasons seemingly satisfactory to themselves, will cast a vote for some side-show candidate, without the remotest thought of electing him; yet this vote, thus given, will be a potent factor in determining which of the four men named shall be elected.

The moral quality of a vote is only determined by the result it secures, and hence it is that a prohibition or people's vote, though cast with the best intent, is turned to the assistance of Cleveland and Altgeld, the "wide open" representatives of all the bad elements in society, and against Harrison and Fifer, who, in their personal character and party, represent so much of what is good, and the only safe line of hope for anything better. Which shall it be?

"Every enemy this great republic has had for thirty years has been a democrat. Every man that shot union soldiers in extremity of death was a democrat. Every man that loved slavery better than liberty was a democrat. The man that assassinated Abraham Lincoln was a democrat. Every man that sympathized with the assassin—every man glad that the noblest president ever elected was assassinated—was a democrat. Every man who wanted the privilege of whipping another man to make him work for nothing and paid him with lashes on his naked back was a democrat. Every man that raised bloodhounds to pursue human beings was a democrat.

"Every man that impaired the credit of the United States, every man that swore we would never pay the bonds, every man that swore we would never redeem the greenbacks, every man who sold his country's credit, every man who sold his country's honor was a democrat."—R. G. Ingersoll.

Altgeld declares that the democrats are entitled to all the credit for the passage of the labor bills of the last legislature. As is quite usual with him, his statements bear no relation to facts. About all the laws in the interests of labor and protection of miners, as well as control of the railroads, were introduced and passed, and today form a monument of proper republican legislation, in spite of democratic opposition.

It is worthy of note that not a single democratic paper in the state has openly and frankly advocated the election of Altgeld for governor. About all that has been said for him gets an airing in the obscure country papers, through the plate matter sent out by "Buck" Heinrichsen, who, as a running mate for Altgeld, on the same ticket for secretary of state, illustrates eternal fitness in that particular.

If fidelity to detail duties of an office is appreciated Gen. Fayer will experience no difficulty in securing a reelection. He has made a vigorous canvass and the farmers are well pleased with his speeches and presence. Soldiers will not be slow in responding to an invitation to support their old comrade.

Protection Advocates.

"There are natural causes tending to render the external demand for the surplus of agricultural nations a precarious reliance."—Alexander Hamilton.

"Our manufactures will likewise require the systematic and fostering care of government. Possessing, as we do, all the raw materials, the fruit of our own soil and industry, we ought not to depend, in the degree we have done, on the supplies from other countries; while we are thus dependent, the sudden event of war unsought and unexpected, cannot fail to plunge us in the most serious difficulties. It is important, too, that the capital which nourishes our manufactures should be domestic, and its influence, in that case, instead of exhausting, as it may do in foreign hands, would be felt advantageously in agriculture and every other branch of industry. Equally important is it to provide a home market for our raw material, as by extending the competition it will enhance the price, and protect the cultivator against the casualties incident to foreign markets."—James Monroe.

"We have been too long subject to the policy of British merchants; it is time we should become a little Americanized; and instead of feeding the paupers and laborers of England, feed our own, or else in a short time (by continuing our present policy) we shall be remedied paupers ourselves."—Andrew Jackson.

"I am free to admit that I am not one of those who either feel, or profess to feel, indifferent to our own interests. I prefer my own country to all others; if by legislation or negotiation an advantage is to be given to one over the other, I prefer my own country to all the world besides."—Millard Fillmore.

Yet this doctrine, so emphatically declared by the fathers, is denounced by the democratic platform unconstitutional.

Several thousand "maiden" votes will be cast in this state by young men, who vote for a president for the first time. There is a moral certainty that a large proportion of these votes will be cast for Harrison and Fifer. Boys, why not make it unanimous?

A vote for Cleveland and Altgeld is in favor of a currency worth only 70 cents on the dollar. It would also mean reduced wages, and uncertain employment. It seems incredible that voters from the farm and the workshop, the forge and the mill will voluntarily put burdens on themselves and children.

Altgeld says that the state institutions are run by a clique who run the governor. Never mind—when he becomes an inmate of the appropriate state institution, he will find that he cannot break out, and Gov. Fifer will control the clique sufficiently to see that he is gently cared for.

Altgeld continues to rant about the Edwards school law, evidently not knowing enough to know that Dr. Edwards had nothing at all to do with the troublesome school law, which was formulated by a citizens' committee of Chicago, a large majority of whom were democrats.

Among the notables in the state parade on the opening of the world's fair, none were more conspicuous than Gov. Fifer and his staff—all mounted on superb steeds—and showy in trappings. The governor "sits" a horse as if he was a part of him, and is well known to be a fine horseman and frequently in the saddle.

All the patriotism ever possessed by Cleve and Steve and Altgeld, would have more play in a McKinley pint tin cup than a tadpole would in the Pacific ocean.
